The month discounts are to be allowed which will bring the price down to 12/- for lighting and 10/- for heating. The discounts on coal counts are now in a flourishing condition, and it is considered the best price is the high rate of 12/- per ton. The cause of the high price is the high rate of interest on the £100,000 loan of a large interest bill on debentures, the greater proportion of which was recently redeemed.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

DELAY IN THE PROGRAMME.

DOMINIONS DISINCLINED TO SUGGEST.

LONDON, July 30.

A half-book, published yesterday, of correspondence between the Imperial Government and the Governments of the Dominions, and colonies since the last Imperial Conference in 1906, shows that the Government on the Dominions, and not the Imperial Government, have been remiss in taking steps to prepare the programme for the forthcoming conference.

Though Lord Crewe, Secretary of State for the Colonies, has been pressing the various Governments to propose business for discussion at the meeting in 1911, he has not received any definite suggestions. The correspondence relates to the topics to be discussed at the conference. Upon some there has been a divergence of opinion, notable in Mr. Deakin's criticisms on the rearrangement of the Colonial Office in accordance with the suggestions of the last conference.

VETO CONFERENCE.

PROGRESS OF DISCUSSION.

DELIBERATIONS TO CONTINUE.

LONDON, July 30.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Asquith, stated in the House of Commons to-day that the conference between the leaders of the Liberal and Labour parties on the powers of the House of Lords had carefully surveyed a large part of the field of controversy.

The discussion had so progressed that members of the conference considered it necessary the deliberations should continue.

There was no question, he added, of the indefinite continuance of the conference, and if an agreement were unlikely an announcement would be made.

THE CROWNING.

PARLIAMENTARY DELEGATIONS.

LONDON, July 30.

A deputation of members of the House of Commons urged Mr. Asquith to invite delegations from the Parliaments of the Dominions to attend the coronation and the Imperial Conference.

Mr. Asquith said that he was unable to propose the co-operation of the Government in the matter, but suggested that members of the House of Lords and the House of Commons should entertain the visitors.

OVERSEA REPRESENTATION.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

The cable which appeared to effect that at a meeting of members of the House of Commons it was decided to send delegations from the Dominions with respect to inviting representations of all the parts of the dominions and colonies of the Empire to attend the coronation.

It was agreed that the proposal was brought under the notice of Federal Ministers to-day.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Asquith, said: "Of course that is their matter; it rests entirely with the Imperial Government."

The Minister for External Affairs had suggested that the proposal was not likely to represent Australia and New Zealand, and it was not clear that the proposal had taken definite shape.

TURKISH LOAN FAILS.

FRANCE REPUTED FACILITATES.

LONDON, July 30.

Report says, Turkish Minister for Finance has failed to negotiate a loan of £10,000,000 to liquidate the deficit in the Turkish finances of last year.

The French Government refused to grant the Turkish Minister facilities to raise the loan on the ground that he would not guarantee French industry a legitimate share in the orders to be paid out of the loan.

AUSTRIAN ARMY MANOEUVRES.

FLANDERS CAUSES ABANDONMENT.

LONDON, July 30.

The outbreak of glanders in cavalry regiments of Austria-Hungary, and the danger of men contracting the disease, caused the Emperor Francis Joseph to order the abandonment of grand army manoeuvres.

BRANDING STRIKE-BREAKERS.

A MEANS OF IDENTIFICATION.

LONDON, July 30.

In answer to the statement that the men engaged as strike-breakers at Antwerp are branded with an indiarubber stamp, the Shipping Federation states that a doctor at Antwerp stamped the men on the wrist after they had passed his inspection, in order to prevent crime substituting unfit men.

MR. GEORGE WESTINGHOUSE.

DEPOSED FROM AUTOCRACY.

LONDON, July 30.

Mr. George Westinghouse, for 25 years autocratic head of the Westinghouse Company in New York, has been deposed by the directors from the presidency after a period of prolonged friction between him and them.

Mr. George Westinghouse, who is American, took out his first patent for an air-brake on April 12, 1869, and the Westinghouse Air Brake Company was founded on July 20 following. In 1883 Mr. Westinghouse became interested in the operation of railway signals and switches by compressed air, and developed a system of signals which was adopted in a great part in the application of electricity to industrial uses, and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, which was organized in 1886, now has 339 companies with which it is connected, most of them bearing its name.

The combined capital of nine of the most prominent of these companies is $20,000,000.

Reuter's correspondent at Simla states that the Government of India has warned two battalions and a mountain battery to be in readiness to advance on Thibet to protect the British Trading Agency at Gyantse, about 100 miles south-west of Lhasa.

The British troops will not advance unless an attack on Gyantse is imminent.

The troops will be strictly neutral should the Chinese come into collision with the Thibetans.

The bitterness of the Thibetans against the Chinese is increasing. One thousand Chinese troops are reported to have been massacred in Lhasa in the month of May.

No success has yet attended the efforts of the Chinese authorities to select a successor to the Dalai Lama who is still at Darjiling, Northern India.

By the Anglo-Thibetan Conventions of 1890 and 1893 Yatung, in the Chumbi Valley, on the Indian frontier, was ceded to China, and by a treaty signed on September 7, 1904, by Colonel Yungshusand after the successful occupation of Lhasa, Tibet agreed to cede to the Chinese Gyantse and Kham, and to add Yatung to British and Thibetan officials situated there. The chief imports are tea, dried fruit, and tobacco.

Colonel Crippen, the British Agent for the Colonies, has been pressing the various Governments to propose business for discussion at the meeting in 1911, he has not received any definite suggestions.

The correspondence relates to the topics to be discussed at the conference. Upon some there has been a divergence of opinion, notable in Mr. Deakin's criticisms on the rearrangement of the Colonial Office in accordance with the suggestions of the last conference.

Though Lord Crewe, Secretary of State for the Colonies, has been pressing the various Governments to propose business for discussion at the meeting in 1911, he has not received any definite suggestions.

ARMED WITH A REVOLVER.

LONDON, July 30.

After buying passage for himself and Le Neve by the Montrose, Crippen was practically penniless. This is proved by the fact that he asked a Brussels shipper where money was lent, and how he could negotiate a loan.

Crippen was identified by the captain of the Montrose two hours after the sailing.

A Marconi message to the "Daily Mail" from the Montrose reports that seeing Le Neve squeeze the hand of Crippen roused the suspicion of the captain. Le Neve's hat, it was found, was packed with paper to make it fit.

Crippen has a revolver in his hip pocket. He reads "Pickwick Papers."

Four men are watching Crippen aboard the steamer.

FINANCIAL.

STATE REVENUE RETURNS.

Owing to the withholding of the State's share of the Commonwealth revenue there was a substantial shrinkage in the receipts last month, which is the first of the new financial year. In July of last year the State Treasurer said: "The year has been a good one." This year he received nothing from that source. There was, however, an increase in State undertakings, making the total amount of public debt repaid, expenses, etc., to be tabulated in Parliament within 28 days of the commencement of the financial year. It is to be kept apart from the other money of the State Guaranteed Advances Office, and are to be used for State purposes only."
